

In 1791, the port was first entered by a whaling vessel commissioned as a convict transport 'Salamander'.

Tomaree

Canoes, made of bark from the stringybark tree with clay plugging either end, would have ploughed this rich waterway.

Port Stephens Waters

Stockton's wind blown sand dunes define the largest continuous moving land mass in New South Wales.

Beneath them lies the large fresh water table of the Tomago sandbeds.

Stockton Sands